"You Can Help Win This War"

by Producing

More fruit : More Vegetables : More food : FOR THE HOME FRONT :

Everyone should do his part to help win the war—but some people are at a loss as to how they can help and others are doing more than their share. One way to be really patriotic these days is to raise a Victory Garden for in no other way can most of us be of greater service to our country.

Dark days are ahead—curtailment of everyday needs will change the living habits of our people. They will be forced to spend more time at home—develop new hobbies—and learn that the garden plays an important part in winning of the war.

The wise gardener will not fail to plant an Espalier Dwarf Fruit tree in his garden—he knows that it will take up very little space, produce a plentiful crop of fruit, is decorative and inexpensive.

No Home grounds, whether large or small, should be without fruit trees—the product of which may contribute greatly to healthful and enjoyable meals. Many gardens may not have room for a full sized standard fruit tree, but almost any garden has room for at least one Espalier Fruit tree. The roots of these trees take up very little space and herbs, flowers and vegetables may be planted at their very feet since the trees cast no shadows.

The Amateur will find that Espaliers are easier to grow and care for than standard fruit trees, and, what's more, the owner will be delighted when he discovers the generous crop of large and superior quality fruit these small trees can produce—especially since the yield is a return on an investment of virtually "no space" at all and the trees are as ornamental as they are useful.

Plant fruit trees now and see them bear fruit next year. There is nothing like fresh fruit on the table. Unless you can enjoy picking and eating fully ripe fruit from your backyard, you will never know the tender, juicy and fine flavor fresh fruit has to offer.

Plan your Victory Garden now. Don't put it off! The United States Department of Agriculture is urging nurserymen throughout the country to co-operate by stressing the necessity for more fruit trees.

Home gardeners, farmers and fruit growers must set out more fruit trees to provide additional food at low cost. Labor and transportation problems will cause a shortage of fruit next year and prices will certainly go sky-high.

The demand for Espalier Fruit trees and Dwarf Dwarf Fruit trees will exceed the supply, for millions of people will be more garden minded than ever before. Therefore, we urge you to order now—while we still have a choice selection of trees at our present low prices.

We are allowing a special 10% reduction off our price list on cash orders received before March 31st. We are offering this discount to encourage our clients to order their trees early or before the rush season starts. Nurserymen will be handicapped by an ever increasing shortage of labor and consequently those who order early will not be disappointed.

BUY NOW AND "KEEP 'EM GROWING" IS OUR MOTTO in the ONWARD MARCH TO VICTORY.
